New US-style diner set to open in old charity shop

A TASTE of the USA could be on the way to town.

Plans to transform a charity shop into an American diner are expected to be approved later this month.

It is hoped that the restaurant, Route 66, will spice up Haverhill High Street by enticing new retailers to join the ranks, as well as bringing new jobs to the town centre and boosting the local economy.

Sam Clark got the idea for Route 66 after realising that the town was lacking in independent restaurants.

He said: "There aren't too many independent places in the town."

"It seems to be a busy high street, and Haverhill seems to be on the up as an area generally."

Mr Clark, who previously owned Cafe Zafferano in Saffron Walden, said the nearest American diner to Haverhill was in Braintree, Essex.

He said: "There's nothing really out there like it - it's good to do something a bit different."

If approved, Mr Clark hopes that Route 66 will be open to cater for festive shoppers before Christmas.

The application has reportedly attracted the "informal" support of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, and has received no objection from Haverhill Town Council or Environmental Health.

Will Austin, Haverhill Town Council clerk, said: "We are supportive of more commercial businesses on the high street."

DEBRA FOX

"There are plenty of takeaways in the town centre, but we haven't got many sit-down restaurants, so from that point of view it is a useful addition."

Town councillors noted that the possible impact on the flats above the site should be taken into account, and said that parking restrictions must be obeyed by customers.

It is proposed that some parking spaces in the High Street and Helions Walk car park will be used for the restaurant, in accordance with local policies.

Parking on the high street is restricted between 10am and 4pm.

Mr Austin said: "Nobody will be able to park there during the day time."

"If the restaurant has a takeaway facility, people tend to just park on the street."

The decision is due on November 15, at the latest.

HISTORIC: The cottages, at 85 and 87 High Street. Havebury Housing propose to demolish them to build six flats.

Save our cottages

Application to demolish two historic properties in the High Street and turn them into flats sparks anger

HISTORIC cottages could be demolished to make way for flats.

The decision to knock down the properties in Haverhill High Street is due to be made today, at a meeting of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Development Control Committee.

Havebury Housing Partnership submitted the application to re-develop the cottages into six flats, which would be next door to an office and a further seven flats.

Will Austin, town clerk, said: "The cottages are very old, and are believed to be the oldest buildings in the high street.

"The architecture doesn't look like anything special from the outside, but they are quite rare specimens."

In their objection, the town council argued that Havebury's design is not in keeping with the other properties in that part of the high street.

They instead suggested that the cottages are refurbished and preserved.

Councillors also raised concerns about the proposed number of parking spaces, which is less than the proposed number of flats.

Mr Austin said: "We support the idea of using the buildings for residential dwellings – but we propose that the existing buildings are used.

"We are supportive of Havebury's efforts in Haverhill, but we would like them to reconsider their proposal for the two cottages."

Local taxi driver Jason Crooks contacted English Heritage in July to try and get the buildings listed, but was unsuccessful.

Mr Crooks, of Little Thurlow, said: "English Heritage stated the cottages were of 'local historical significance'. They also say if more information comes to light regarding the cottages they would be happy for a new listing application to go ahead."

A report from Suffolk County Council's archaeological team revealed that the cottages date back to at least the 1820's.

Mr Crooks said: "Our clay lump cottages are almost certainly the only ones in Haverhill. I find it very hard to understand that our borough council would even consider allowing an application to demolish these rare cottages."

County councillor Tony Brown, who represents Haverhill East and Kedington, has branded the plans "a giant slap in the face to the town from the St Edmundsbury planners".

He said: "The town is fighting tooth and nail to keep these buildings. The cottages should be repaired and restored – future generations of Haverhillians would be grateful if they are saved."

Havebury Housing is "committed to providing much needed affordable homes" and says that making the cottages into six new flats will aid this plan.

Karen Mayhew, Chief Executive, said: "We are particularly short of town centre properties and this regeneration project may encourage tenants who are currently under-occupying larger homes to move. This will give us the chance to help other local families live in their own home."

All fright on the night for residents this Hallowe'en

TRICK or treaters were on their best behaviour this year with anti social behaviour down 9 per cent on 2012.

Police received 81 reports of anti-social behaviour compared to 89 reports the year before and 158 reports in 2011.

Chief Insp Jenny Powell believes the reduction is down to proactive work by the force.

She said: "In the run-up to Hallowe'en and bonfire night we have worked hard with communities to ensure anti-social disturbances are kept to a minimum.

"Advice has been available to parents, trick or treaters, residents and businesses alike as to how they can come together as a community to ensure that the right balance was stuck at Hallowe'en – allowing those who wanted to celebrate it to do so appropriately, whilst enabling people who did not want to be involved to be left alone."

MPs claim more than £1,000 in energy bills

WEST Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock is among those MPs who claimed for their energy bills last year.

Mr Hancock claimed £48.84, with other ministers' claims tipping into the hundreds.

He said: "I am a strong supporter of MPs spending being transparent.

"To represent West Suffolk effectively I have to live in both the constituency and London, but I try to keep bills to the taxpayer to the absolute minimum and I pay most of the electricity bill myself."

An analysis by the Sunday Mirror found Sir Jim Paice, who represents South East Cambridgeshire, claimed £529.03, while Cambridge MP Julian Huppert claimed £120.59.

CLlr Kevin Price, who represents King's Hedges for Labour, said it was "just not right" that parliamentarians could have electricity and gas at their second homes paid for by taxpayers, while families struggle.

FUNDRAISER: The Sainsbury's staff taking part in the Movember challenge.

Sainsbury's staff face up to the Movember challenge

SUPERMARKET workers are experimenting with a different look this month.

Twenty colleagues from Sainsbury's, in Haycocks Road, Haverhill, have pledged to let their facial fuzz grow to raise awareness of men's health.

The team are joining thousands of "mo bros" – and the occasional "mo sista" – across the country in the effort to raise as much as possible for testicular cancer, prostate cancer, and mental health.

Shaun Gadsby, store manager, said: "We just thought it's getting so popular now and it would be really good to raise awareness for men's health. We have around 20 colleagues signed up to do it."

The men have buckets placed behind the till and at the front desk of the store for any customers who want to make a donation.

They will stay in place until the end of the month.

The campaign to trumpet the power of the moustache was started in Australia in 2003.

Last year, an estimated 1.1 million people took part in the facial hair themed challenge across the globe.

A new guide to health services

A GUIDE to health services in Haverhill has been produced to make the information more accessible to residents.

A new directory listing all local facilities has been published after patients called for better information.

Produced by West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group in partnership with ONE Haverhill and Haverhill Town Council, the guide will be distributed to GP surgeries, dentists and public places around the town.

Dr Ed Garratt, chief operating officer of the NHS West Suffolk CCG, said: "Local people told us they needed more information on what health services are available in the area.

"We have listened to this feedback and have created this new helpful guide.

"The guide is designed to be

kept for future reference and will act as an invaluable resource for people in Haverhill."

Opening times and services available at GP practices, accessing medical help out of hours and information on dentists and opticians are just some of the resources included in the guide.

Information on children's centres, transport and healthy living services, such as getting fit and quitting smoking, have also been set out for residents.

Both Cllr Roger André, town mayor, and Sarah Howard, chair of the ONE Haverhill board, expressed their support for the health directory, describing it as a "very valuable guide" to help residents understand and access their services.

Cllr André said: "Haverhill Town Council recognises that patient education is an important part of improving health-care in the town, alongside more and better local health services.

"We are pleased to have worked with the CCG in developing this important resource, and will soon be producing our own short summary of the information in leaflet form to deliver to every household in Haverhill."

Services available from Haverhill Health Clinic, and information about mental health services in Haverhill have also been outlined in the guide.

Haverhill Town Council's own summary will also be available online at haverhill-tc.gov.uk

Now that's a pub crawl!

GOING on a pub crawl might be a once-in-a-blue-moon pastime for most.

But for 54-year-old mum Cathy Price, it's something she chooses to do at least once a week – and for the majority of her weekend.

In 2011, Cathy, from Preston in Lancashire, set herself the crazy challenge of visiting every Red Lion pub in Britain.

For around two-and-a-half years she has travelled the length and breadth of the country visiting as many of the drinking holes as she can.

At the weekend she brought her quirky quest to Cambridgeshire and Suffolk.

On Saturday she visited Red Lions in Great Wratting and Sturmer, as well as Stretham, Soham and more.

Cathy said: "I must say it's a lovely place and everyone who I met was so friendly and supportive."

"It's also ever so easy to get around as it's so flat – much easier than places like Wales that's for sure."

When Cathy started her mission, there were 724 Red Lion pubs in the UK. Now, there are 620.

By the end of the next year, the 54-year-old wants to have enjoyed a drink in each one.

She said: "Everybody said I've got bored of the challenge after a while but I haven't – it gets more fun by the day. This quest has enabled me to visit parts of the UK that I'd never have thought of visiting before and it's marvellous."

Neighbourhood team welcomes a new face

DEBRA FOX

A FAMILIAR face from the police force has stepped into a new role.

Sergeant Gary Miller took up the position of Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) sergeant this week, following the departure of Sgt Sarah Bartley to Bury St Edmunds.

Previously one of the supervisors for the town's first response team, Sgt Miller says he is looking forward to tackling policing priorities in Haverhill.

He said: "It is completely different to what I did before, and dealing with community business and problems is something I thought I would like to do."

Though he has only been in the role for a few days, Sgt Miller says he has plans for dealing with parking in the High Street, and addressing concerns about speeding in the town centre.

Plans are ongoing to try and move the town's SNT forward by opening the public vote online.

It is hoped that the online poll will help everyone, not just those who can attend the meetings, have a say on issues that matter to them.

Priorities will be written down as members of the public enter the meeting. These will then be shared online, enabling people to vote from home.

Sgt Miller said: "I think and hope that it will work. People are busy in their personal and daily lives a lot of the time, so they don't have the opportunity to attend meetings in the evenings."

"It's allowing us to get a better view on the desires and concerns of the community."

Earlier this year, Inspector Peter Ferrie revealed that changing the policing priorities is another way of moving the SNT forward.

He said: "We seem to be stuck in a kind of rut, and I'm trying to break us out of that and find out what the town is really worried about. We need to have priorities that the SNT can actually solve."

Dealing with ongoing anti-social behaviour problems in the town and trying to tackle drug crime are two things Sgt Miller would like to see at the top of the priority list.

He also leads the Rural SNT team, and would like to focus on burglaries and break-ins across the area.

To make your vote for the next meeting on December 9, tweet @ PoliceHaverhill or email peter.ferrie@suffolk.pnn.police.uk from the beginning of December.

St John Ambulance cadets are town's young life-savers

HERE TO HELP: The St John Ambulance cadets have been learning first aid

YOUNGSTERS are making sure that local lives are in safe hands as they complete first aid training.

A new St John Ambulance cadet unit was launched in Haverhill in April, and members of the first intake have now completed their initial training course. The group's 15 members, who are aged between 10 and 17, were presented with Young First Aider certificates on October 24.

Their education included learning how to perform CPR, treating a head injury, how to put someone in the recovery position and how to treat scalds, burns and severe bleeding.

Plans are in progress to launch a Badger Set in the town, for younger children aged 5 to 10.

For more information about the group, contact Sheena Ellum, cadet youth leader on 07719 560395, Monday to Friday after 2pm. You can also visit sja.org.uk.

Forget false widows – meet cave spiders

DEBRA FOX

ONE of Britain's biggest spiders has been snapped in action.

Keen wildlife photographer and Anglian Water works technician Adrian Hinchliffe spied the eight-legged beast in Great Wratting, near Haverhill.

Mr Hinchliffe coaxed the creature into striking a pose for his camera.

He said: "They are repelled by light and have to be in the dark, so they like our meter chambers, which are sunk into the ground."

"Every now and then we have to inspect these chambers and lift the covers and see these rather large spiders."

"You have to break through the webs and you can see the tear-shaped egg sacs hanging down. It can be a bit daunting."

The cave spiders, Meta bourneti, have since been found on several other Anglian Water sites including those in Long Melford and Steeple Bumpstead.

They can reportedly grow to be 30mm in diameter, excluding the legs, making them some of the country's largest spiders.

Anglian Water's biodiversity team, which works to manage sites with wildlife in mind, is delighted by the discovery. Steven Falk, entomologist at invertebrate conservation charity Buglife, explained that the mysterious spiders are more widespread than expected, but do a good job of hiding in places where no one goes.

He said: "Open up a manhole cover or go into a deep canal tunnel and there is a good chance you will see a cave spider or its suspended egg cocoon."

"We are getting an increasing number of reports from water engineers in parts of Britain, many miles from caves. It makes you wonder how on earth they got there."

"Fully grown ones have a leg span on a par with a big house spider, but they are more closely related to garden spiders and cannot run very fast. They are totally harmless and females can probably live for several years."

Thank you for your encouragement

WE have been heartened by the number of people who viewed our recent exhibition, The Art of Peace, and by the favourable comments we received.

The dedicated and courageous work of the countless individuals and organisations throughout the world using non-violent means to create and sustain peace and reconciliation is an inspiration. This is, thankfully, a growing movement.

We hope to celebrate UN International Day of Peace in 2014 with a similar exhibition; when local schoolchildren, writers and artists will be encouraged to share their contributions on the theme of 'Peace'.

Are you a carer?

INCREASING numbers of your readers will be taking on care of loved ones - over half will be juggling paid work with unpaid care for loved ones.

In particular we are seeing a rise in the number of working families supporting a loved one with dementia.

They may not instantly identify themselves a 'carer'. It might be they are helping Mum or Dad or an older relative with shopping, housework, medication or getting about.

Help can start at a few hours a week, but need can also suddenly creep up and become difficult to manage, especially if families are living apart.

Care for an older loved often comes at peak career age. Without the right support, the strain of caring for an elderly loved one and working, often alongside raising children, can force employees with valuable experience and skill out of the workforce.

Carers UK's research shows 2.3m people in the UK have given up work to. Businesses we are already working with tell the same story as the statistics - dementia care is a key issue for workforce retention, recruitment and resilience.

Through a survey launched today we will examine key issues and support needs for employees caring for a loved one with dementia and practical ways in which employers and other parties can help.

The surveys can be found at www.carersuk.org/dementiasurvey

Spooky fun for little tots

CHILDREN donned their best fancy dress costumes for some Hallowe'en fun this week.

Stepping Stones pre-school held their annual bug hunt and fancy dress competition on Sunday, November 2.

Little witches, ghosts and ghouls put their scariest faces forward for the day in a bid to frighten the judge -

Town Mayor Cllr Roger André. He elected two winners for the best costumes - Colby Pryce from the under 4s and Evie Connolly from the over 4s.

For more information about the pre-school, which runs at Coupals Primary School, visit steppingstonesunder5s.co.uk

Dancers to join pantomime fun

PERFORMERS: Members of Lisa Mason's dance school.

YOUNG dancers are being given their chance to shine with a professional pantomime performance.

More than 40 little stars from the Lisa Mason School of Dance will join a Britain's Got Talent favourite on stage for a glittering production of fairytale favourite Snow White.

Lisa, who has 130 pupils under her wing, teaches classes in and around Haverhill six days a week.

She is providing two sets of dwarves for the production, and is also tasked with creating some of the choreography for the show.

Lisa has praised her young

DEBRA FOX

pupils for their hard work so far with Chris Gidney, producer, and BGT star Drew Cameron, the director and one of the main characters.

She said: "It's such a wonderful opportunity to be directing the children's drama side this year as that's what our dance and theatre school is all about."

"We've had such fun rehearsing some of the iconic moments from such a well-known story. The dwarves all look really good and have such funny individual characters."

Mr Gidney said: "It's always special using local children, giving them the chance to shine, and to be part of the great tradition of pantomime."

The show is at Haverhill Arts Centre between December 21 and December 28.

Dorothy celebrates 100th year

A BIRTHDAY is always a cause for celebration.

But 100 birthdays means it's time for a party.

Centenarian Dorothy Denney welcomed her 100th birthday in style this week, with a small party held at The Meadows Care Home, Haverhill.

She was joined by her daughter Gwen, 70, and granddaughters Sonia, 53, Vonna, 51, and Lorna, 49, on the day, but a big family get together is taking place later in the month.

Dorothy will celebrate with her 13 great grandchildren, aged between 30 and 4, and 10 great great grandchildren, aged between 9 and six months, by her side.

The party, which will take place in Pampisford, will have a bonfire and fireworks in honour of the Centenarian's birthday – which falls on Guy Fawkes night.

Gwen said: "She was thrilled with her letter from the Queen – she was very pleased."

Big cat climb in Arnie's memory

DEBRA FOX

A BELOVED cat is being remembered in a mammoth climb to raise money for lions.

Ginger tom Arnie was a well known face around Linton Zoo as a regular visitor to animals and an escort to families in the park.

The cat, who died earlier this year, had a special attachment to abandoned cubs and often comforted the newborns.

Now, Kim Simmons, Linton Zoo director, is joining colleagues from other zoos across the region in climbing Kilimanjaro to raise money for wildlife conservation.

PURRFECT: Kim and Safina the cub

Kim has chosen the Lion Guardians in Arnie's memory.

The charity works to protect lions by recruiting young, non-literate Maasai warriors to become actively engaged in helping the animals rather than killing them.

The guardians monitor lions and other carnivores, as well as aiding their communities by deterring people from carrying out hunts.

Fundraising work already carried out for the charity by the zoo has raised enough to keep two Lion Guardians in work for a year - and Linton have sponsored their own guardian from the Mbirkani Group Ranch.

It takes an estimated three US dollars a day to keep the project running.

Go to lintonzoo.com/ Kilimanjaro for more information and to sponsor Kim.

Spooky fun on Hallowe'en trail

GHOSTS, ghouls and zombies entertained more than 2,000 guests in an outdoor Hallowe'en extravaganza.

The frightening fun took place at Haverhill's annual Hallowe'en trail, held at East Town Park on November 1.

Creatively carved pumpkins led trick or treaters around the route, and a range of fire-themed attractions made for a bone-chilling experience the whole family could enjoy.

Hailing the trail as one of his favourite events in the town council's year, Nick Keeble, arts manager, said it's always a treat to see everyone from grandparents to babies dressed up and in the spirit.

Talking business

A monthly focus on Haverhill's commercial community with Robin Pilley of

Golden opportunities . . .

I HOPE everyone is adjusting to the darker evenings now our summer seems to have come to an end, but at least the gloom surrounding our economy seems to be lifting a little. For this month's column I am delighted to share with the Haverhill Weekly News readers an exclusive interview I enjoyed with Mr David Gold, co-chairman of West Ham United and chairman of the Ann Summers Group. Elaine Grubb, fellow Director of CXG and I visited him at the Ann Summers HQ, an impressive building in

Robin Pilley chats to David Gold, co-chairman of West Ham United and chairman of the Ann Summers Group, about his various challenges in business, the rewards ... and being surrounded by women

Godstone, Surrey, and David Gold's PA, Jane Ritchie, gave us a tour of the offices. This tour reinforced in us how crucial staff are in building a business; they all seemed very passionate about their job and their roles in the company. There were many inspiring messages written by them on a special noticeboard, demonstrating how they help to build the iconic brand which is Ann Summers. Mr Gold has regular meetings with his senior staff in order to be kept up to date with the company's performance, and as our interview overran we made him late for his next scheduled meeting that day. He was very kind and said they could wait a few minutes for him, which also demonstrated he gets his priorities right! In the picture below Mr Gold is holding a specially inscribed antique shoehorn we presented to him to mark the occasion. After previous conversations with Mr Gold I was aware this would take him back to his roots when he was a small boy, as he used a similar one to repair his 'blakey' shoes and to hammer the studs on to his football boots. It just goes to show that from humble beginnings anyone with drive and determination can make it into the premier league of business. I hope the following interview will give you some inspiration.

So the first question I'd like to ask is what are the biggest challenges you've faced in building West Ham and Ann Summers? They're obviously different types of businesses but is there symmetry between the challenges you've faced in them?

No, they're completely different. We had to build Ann Summers but we didn't build West Ham. What we did at West Ham was to save it from administration which is a bit different from building it.

The foundation was already in place, together with the fan base which was strong and passionate. Indeed it was the cornerstone of the institution which is West Ham.

We merely became the custodian of this great club. Building Ann Summers, on the other hand, started with an idea and we built that idea into a business, so it's two different ideologies.

A lot of people say that you're either born with entrepreneurial spirit or you're not but was there a eureka moment when you thought I want to run my own business?

No, I think entrepreneurs emerge. I don't think they're born, I think it's in all of us in different degrees.

There are some people who have a great passion to be an entrepreneur, and by that I mean they want to work for themselves, they don't want to work for anyone else.

Entrepreneurism isn't for everybody; you can still be hugely successful without running your own business. One of the most successful people I know comes to work, earns 25k a year, starts at 9am and finishes at 5:30pm. If you ask him to stay on for 10 minutes to help out he can't because he wants to get home to his lovely wife and children.

He is the happiest man on the planet. He will tell you he's successful so you can see there are different things that people regard as success. I have a passion for business, a passion for success, and a passion to win.

Do you reward yourself after you've won?

The physical reward of success is wealth. The person I referred to earlier measures his success as being able to do exactly what he wants to do, which is to spend time with his family. My measure of success is that my company will become richer, I therefore become richer which leads to material things enabling a more pleasurable life e.g. I have a helicopter which gives me huge pleasure. I wouldn't be able to do that if I wasn't successful with my business. Without the success of my business I would not have the ability to help my beloved football club.

SHOEHORN GIFT: David Gold

My reward is the freedom to be able to enjoy the fruits of my labour. The driver when you're creating a business is not getting up thinking you're going to make lots of money. The driver was, and still is, wanting to create and build something special and to leave a legacy, the money and success is just a consequence of the hard work that you have to put in to building a business.

What are the best tips you can give for running a successful business? What do you think it is that makes Ann Summers successful?

Well there's no magic bullet. I fear I'm going to give you the standard answers; one is hard work, you cannot be successful without dedication. You've got to love your brand, whether it's West Ham or Ann Summers and you've got to love the business.

You've got to believe your brand is the best, and you have to get close to the people around you and encourage them to feel the same way. They're not going to be as passionate as you but you can pass on the desire to succeed and aspiring to win is very important.

Because of your daughters how supportive are you of women in business? Elaine (one of our director's) has won a couple of awards but generally, especially in football, women aren't well represented in the boardroom. So do you encourage that? Or is it something that you help out with?

Well I'm the chairman of 6 businesses and 3 of them have got Chief Executives that are women: Karren, Vanessa and Jacqueline. I'm open-minded and want the best person for the job whatever the gender, but while I agree that there has been a precedence over the years to employ men in the boardroom, I think that it is now almost a thing of the past.

My boardroom at Ann Summers is practically all women; in fact I'm sure the men are now saying they want equal rights!

So what are the qualities that women bring into business/the boardroom?

They bring similar qualities to men but with that special feminine touch. If they're not in the boardroom it's because they can't bring the quality regardless of whether they're a man or a woman.

I think it was former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher who said "If you want something said ask a man, if you want something done, ask a woman."

Indeed just as in politics, it is the same in business; you have to have the courage to make difficult decisions and the ability to drive them through to a successful conclusion.

So when did you realise that your daughters had a talent for business?

Well they both joined the company really to earn pocket money.

Back then I was busy running the company and didn't have time to realise this could be the new MD or CEO of the business.

Maybe that was a mistake on my part; maybe I should have paid more attention and speeded up the process. They won the right to come into the boardroom with their managerial capability initially, but slowly and surely the cream rose to the top.

Were they competitive with each other?

No. In fact at times they were in two different parts of the building, working in different departments so they were never put in a competitive situation, they both emerged almost from different places but they both rose to the top and that was the key.

It was a proud moment when I realised they were both something special but it was their hard work that got them to where they are. Obviously by having their dad as the owner it does help open doors for them but I think they would have been in this position even without me.

If I wasn't around and they had just come to work here they would still have been successful. As I was saying to you earlier they carry the same genes in a sense and inherited the desire to win and the passion to succeed.

So do they have different individual qualities that they bring to the business?

Yes they do complement each other and that's why it's great they are in one business as opposed to one working in another company. One has a particular strength that the other doesn't.

We've all got weaknesses and it's nice to know that my weaknesses are covered by somebody else's strength.

You need a well balanced team in business just as you do in football. It's no use your striker scoring three goals if your defender is letting in four. In business it's no good creating a £1million pound turnover if your outgoings are £2million - which is one lesson premier league chairmen are hopefully beginning to focus on.

What's your weakness?

It's a secret. . . Cadbury Dairy Milk chocolate!

With that, the conclusion of our interview, Jane reminded Mr Gold of his next meeting. She cleared the coffee cups and just before putting the plates of biscuits on the tray asked if anyone wanted another one. Given the opportunity to choose first, Elaine diplomatically declined the one and only Cadbury dairy milk biscuit on offer and plumped for the custard cream!

Town could get 200 new homes

INDUSTRIAL land could be the answer to housing problems as developers make a move.

An application to build up to 200 homes in Haverhill on a site earmarked for business use is set to be entered by Carisbrooke Investments.

Owner Nic Rumsey has revealed that the idea to change the use of the land, on Haverhill Business Park, has been prompted by a lack of industrial interest and a need for more homes.

Carisbrooke has been trying to sell the land, on the east of Bumpstead Road, as part of the business park since 2007.

Mr Rumsey said: "In light of the fact that no commercial tenants have come forward in the last six years and with government planning guidance encouraging sites such as this to be reviewed, we consider it appropriate to propose developing the land with new homes, especially given the need that exists."

There is currently an oversupply of industrial land across the borough and in Haverhill itself – but there is not enough housing to meet the required five year supply.

It is thought that by 2031 there will be a demand for 79 hectares of employment land – but as it stands there is a potential supply of 168 hectares.

Mr Rumsey said: "As there is already existing infrastructure in place, the much needed new homes could be easily and swiftly delivered and, with no significant costs associated with preparing the site, there are no viability constraints either."

"We consider that the development of this site with new homes is both logical and needed at the present time.

"It is hoped that an application will be ready for submission shortly and we look forward to seeing the proposals move forward through the planning process."

Haverhill Town Council has so far given support to the initial plans, which are expected to offer up to 30 per cent of affordable housing. This would equate to 60 homes.

Will Austin, town clerk, said: "It would be on a great site, with existing residential provision in the area, and good links with the town centre. We think, on the face of it, it's a good arrangement for using that land for housing purposes."

Police search for four burglary suspects

FOUR people are being hunted by police after a daytime burglary last Thursday.

In Turnpike Hill, Withersfield, four people were seen to be acting suspiciously in the back garden by a witness.

After realising they'd been spotted, they fled the scene and ran towards Hales Barn Road, Haverhill.

Officers discovered an attempt had been made to force open a rear window, but they did not find the offenders.

All four suspects are described as male, aged between 16 and 20-years-old. They wore black or blue hooded tops.

Another burglary also took place on October 31 in Wickhambrook.

Between 1.50am and 3.10pm at a property in The Thorns, Wickhambrook, a rear window was forced open and jewellery was stolen from inside.

Businesses unite for movie

A PHOTOGRAPHER, a councillor and a marketing specialist had the future of the town resting on their shoulders.

Troubleshooter, a film by David Doughty, of The Gallery, Queen Street, cast some of Haverhill's most popular figures into James Bond-themed roles, all in the name of promotion.

Screened at an event hosted by thebestof Haverhill on October 17, the film highlighted the importance of businesses standing out from the crowd and finding ways to be remembered.

Parts of Troubleshooter were shot at the Days Inn, Phoenix Road, and Sturmer Hall.

Haverhill songwriter and singer Dale Bennett provided the theme song for the film too.

Mr Doughty said: "We had a lot of fun creating the movie but it does have a serious message.

"If you want to be successful in business people have to know your name and what you do. I'm really grateful to everyone who was involved in the production and I would like to thank them for their generosity."

Founder of thebestof franchise Nigel Botterill also attended the event and gave a presentation to guests, including tips on measuring performance and knowing your marketing.

Elaine Carr, owner of thebestof Haverhill, said: "I am really pleased that Nigel came back to Haverhill with his latest talk."

"It was good to premiere Troubleshooter at the event. I think everyone enjoyed it, although some of us were a little embarrassed by our performance on the big screen."

WINNERS: The team at the hotel.

Hotel passes audit with flying colours

A HOTEL celebrated success after a recent audit.

Staff at the Days Inn Haverhill, on Phoenix Road, were given top marks in an inspection which is carried out on the brand worldwide.

Unannounced, the auditor checks in to the hotel, uses the facilities and interacts with the staff.

The cleanliness and condition of the hotel is also taken into account.

General manager Donna Revell was delighted with their overall score of 90.3 per cent.

She said: "I was really pleased with the results."

"I believe that my team do an excellent job every single day and night of the week but it's always reassuring to know that we are actually getting it right."

Their mystery guest did not reveal her true identity until after she had checked out.

Go to haverhilldaysinn.co.uk or call 01440 716950.

School work could start in early 2014

NEW classrooms, toilets and activity areas are one step closer to arriving at a primary school.

Clements Primary School, on Greenfields Way, Haverhill, was one of seven schools chosen for an expansion by Suffolk County Council in September.

To meet rising pupil demand, the school will get three extra classrooms, a larger early years centre as well as more storage space, extra toilets and further parking.

The plans are currently in the consultation period, which will end on November 11.

The decision will be made by Suffolk County Council, which ruled that there was a shortfall of primary school places in Haverhill.

Clements was also chosen because parts of the current building can already cater for the increase of 210 to 315 pupils.

Headteacher Lesley Farrow expressed her delight at the "excellent news for the school".

She said: "Some of the nursery children haven't got places with us in reception - we have got to know them and their families and that is very upsetting for us."

"It's sad when they can't follow through into reception."

Each year group, from reception to year six, will increase from 30 to 45 pupils in order to allow the school to deal with a high demand for places.

Additional pupils started in the school's reception class this September. Work is due to start in early 2014.

Continue to live smoke free

SMOKERS across Suffolk who took part in Stoptober are being encouraged to carry on with the regime.

More than 3,000 across the county signed up to the 28-day challenge, and kicking the habit during this period means they are more likely to stay smoke-free afterwards.

Live Well Suffolk is asking Stoptober participants to think about the long-term health benefits and savings that would come with giving up.

Stephen Lee-Foster, director of Live Well Suffolk, said: "We are urging people in Suffolk to carry on with their quitting regime and are here to help everyone who wants to stay smoke-free after Stoptober."

For more information about Live Well Suffolk's range of stop smoking services go to livewellsuffolk.org.uk or phone 01473 229292.

Christmas All Wrapped Up

A festive favourite with thrills and spills in store

"CHRISTMAS wouldn't be Christmas without a visit to the pantomime."

That's what Chris Gidney, co-writer and executive producer of the brilliant show coming to Haverhill this year thinks. And when he describes all the thrills in store in the panto, it would be hard to disagree, even with a traditional "OH yes it WOULD!" panto-style response.

With his theatre company's productions returning to Haverhill Arts Centre for the third December in a row, the Haverhill panto is fast becoming a festive favourite, and a family tradition. As Chris says: "Panto is often the first place that a child comes to see live theatre, which is an important thing for us."

So what treats can the people of

ADVERTISING FEATURE

Haverhill look forward to this year? Well, with the ever-popular Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs as the selected story, it's bound to be a crowdpleaser. In something of a coup, they've bagged Britain's Got Talent "judges' favourite" the one and only Drew Cameron to play the part of Muddles. With his brilliant impersonations and hilarious act, he's sure to have the audience rolling in the aisles.

Drew is joined by a professional cast including Katherine Mansi as the villainous Wicked Queen, whose outrageous behaviour Chris describes as "Very wicked indeed." Don't worry though, in true panto tradition she's sure to get her comeuppance in the end.

Katie Bass plays the lovely Snow White herself, while Joseph Dale is the suitably handsome prince. All of the dancers and the all-important dwarfs have been provided by Haverhill's own Lisa Mason School of Dance: with nearly 50 children already hard at work rehearsing for the show!

As well as the traditional, known and loved, story, the pantomime will have much more fun included. Lots of popular favourite songs will feature, with ample opportunities for a singalong, with "everything from Michael Jackson through to Dana" promised. Audience participation opportunities will, of course, be present. Without giving too much away, Chris simply promises that "everyone will get a chance to join in", with the possibility of children coming up onto the stage and helping Muddles with song during the performance!

Add to this some stunning set designs, from the dwarfs' cottage to the scary queen's castle, and even the appearance of zombies at one point along the way, and it really does seem that this year's Haverhill panto has everything. Chris sums it up best when he describes the show as having "everything in it: comedy, glitz and glamour, and great live music too!"

Tickets for Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, at Haverhill Arts Centre, are selling fast. The show runs from Friday, December 20, to Saturday, December 28, (with Christmas Day and Boxing Day off). ## Butchers are a cut above

ADVERTISING FEATURE

KEDINGTON Butchers has been at the centre of village life for 40 years now. And one local customer, Paul Morris, was such a fan of their great selection and helpful service, that three years ago he bought the shop!

With five expert and friendly members of staff, some of whom have been at the shop for more than 20 years, Paul is carrying on the traditions of this local village firm, serving the people of Kedington. And with Christmas approaching, there is a profusion of fine festive fare on offer.

The order book is already open for that most traditional of Christmas meats, the turkey. The butchers use turkeys from Stevens Farm – just a mile and a half away. To guarantee the freshest and most succulent roast for your special day, their delivery is always the very closest one to Christmas Day.

If a whole bird is too much, there's a bountiful selection of other ideas for the Christmas Day table. The butchers stocks everything from smaller turkey joints to Saltmarsh lamb, Riverside beef, Suffolk hams and even delicious non-meat items like Christmas puddings and mince pies!

For traditional accompaniments such as pigs in blanket (sausages wrapped in bacon), look no further – all Kedington Butchers sausages are homemade on the premises, and they can even construct the pigs in blankets for you. One less fiddly job for Christmas morning!

And what does Paul and his family have himself on what he describes as “the nicest meal of the year”? As you'd expect, his table is groaning with the traditional turkey (cooked upside down for maximum moistness) and all the trimmings: pigs in blankets, a little beef, gammon and sprouts, all topped with a rich gravy.

Reserve your turkey or other festive treats now to ensure a delicious Christmas Day. Visit Kedington Butchers at 2, The Parade, Westward Deals, Kedington, CB9 7PN, or telephone (01440) 703119.

Haverhill Drum Tuition & Drum Supplies

Learn to be a big hitter

IF you have ever fancied yourself as a drummer – the next Ringo Starr, Phil Collins or Meg White perhaps – and you live in, or near to Haverhill, then (drum roll ...) your luck might just be in!

From his fully specified studio in the town's Homefield Road, expert player and tutor Tony Mumford runs Haverhill Drum Tuition and Drum Supplies, a business that is fast becoming a Mecca for aspiring drummers.

As Tony explains, having found that his students often needed to buy drum kits of their own, he branched out from tuition into buying and selling drums and related accessories himself.

Take advantage of his expertise whether you want to buy a second hand kit to get you started (with full kits starting from just £150), or move up to an upgraded set. Tony can order you a new kit of any make or brand, as well as individual items like drumsticks, extra cymbals, stands, bags and other accessories.

Other services on offer include drum re-heading, and if you buy your kit from him, he will help you set it up in situ, and dampen it down for you to pre-empt and prevent any noise complaints as you practise your new skills!

An expert tutor as well as drummer himself, Tony can provide drum lessons to players at all levels. Happy to teach kids from the age of six or seven onwards (just as long as your legs are long enough to reach the pedals!), he also works with adult learners, from beginners to intermediate levels. He follows the Trinity Guildhall grade system – as recognised in the music industry – and can take his pupils right the way through from Grades 1 to 7.

If you prefer to learn by drumming along to some of your favourite music – or your own band's tracks – then Tony is happy to help. The studio not only has three full drum kits set up, but also has a full PA system where you can play your music nice and loud.

Covering all styles of drumming, Tony has taught many drummers over the years. One ex-student now drums with Steve Harley & Cockney Rebel, having started learning his trade with Tony at age 10. From a studio in Haverhill, he now plays to crowds of 100,000 at the Isle of Wight Festival!

One-on-one drum lessons cost just £10 for a half hour, or £20 for a full hour.

Having successfully organised a Rock School this summer, matching some of his drum pupils up with guitarists, singers and keyboard players, Tony is keen to set this up as a regular Saturday afternoon or weekday evening session. If you would like to get involved then he would love you to get in touch!

With rehearsal studio space hard to find in the region, Tony is also now hiring out his studio to local bands after 7pm. The rooms have everything you might need already set up: the soundproofed space is also heated and air-conditioned, and has a choice of three drum kits ready to play, a PA system and a backline. Hire is available for £10 per hour.

Haverhill Drum Tuition and Drum Supplies operates from a studio, not a shop, so please make an appointment if you want to visit. With Christmas on its way, what better time to think about buying a kit and booking some lessons for the would-be drummer in the family? Visit Tony's website at haverhilldrumtuition.co.uk for more information, telephone him on 07887 723932 or email him via the website's Contact page. # Frost/Nixon

DRAWING on the film of the same name from 2008 featuring Frank Langella and Michael Sheen, this is a show bound up in political and journalistic tension and intrigue, as well as a powerful battle of wits.

The Dryden Society troupe are set to explore the clash between President Nixon, who received a full pardon from Gerald Ford over his involvement in the Watergate scandal, and British talk-show host David Frost (who aspires to make him fall to pieces).

Twelve interviews, no scripts, and no prior knowledge of the questions – who knows what might happen . . .

● Frost/Nixon, The ADC Theatre, until Saturday, November 9, at 7.45pm. Tickets £8-£10 from (01223) 300085 or www.adctheatre.com.

■ We have the National Theatre Live 2010 broadcast of Alan Bennett's acclaimed play THE HABIT OF ART with the late Richard Griffiths, Frances De La Tour and Alex Jennings tonight at 7pm. Benjamin Britten seeks advice from his former collaborator and friend WH Auden in this look at the unsettling desires of two difficult men and at the ethics of biography, reflecting on growing old, on creativity and inspiration and on persisting when all passion's spent: ultimately, on the habit of art.

■ A charity CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EVENING will take place at the Arts Centre tomorrow from 5pm to 9.30pm raising money and awareness for Pancreatic Cancer Research. There will be a great selection of Christmas gifts and goodies, a raffle with great prizes; you can even have your children/family photographed with a snow scene, a perfect Christmas present!

■ KIKI DEE and her musical partner CARMELO LUGGERI perform songs from their new album together with old favourites such as Don't Go Breaking My Heart on Saturday at 8pm. Hear Carmelo's fantastic guitar style alongside Kiki's wonderful vocals in this intimate set. This collaboration brings together Kiki and Carmelo's eclectic backgrounds from the worlds of soul, pop and rock and results in an acoustic act that might just push your musical boundaries.

■ Your local brass band Haverhill Silver is very fortunate to be joined by the Brass Superstars from the Netherlands, KOPERPOETS, on Sunday for a light-hearted evening of music (and drama!). If you tried to compare Brass Ensemble Koperpoets with a brass band you would fail miserably; comparing it with a choir is not a good idea either, nor is it anything like a medieval recorder ensemble. Their next musical move is never what you expect; neither is the theatrical twist, what is that thing with the didgeridoo and what are they doing with that saxophone? The fun starts at 7.30pm.

■ The first ever live cinema broadcast from the stage of the Royal Shakespeare Company, a sell-out production of RICHARD II (the fastest selling show in the RSC's history which has received rave reviews) with David Tennant in the title role is being broadcast live on Wednesday November 13 at 7pm. Richard is king, ordained by God to lead his people. But he is also a man of very human weakness. A man whose vanity threatens to divide the great houses of England and drag his people into a dynastic civil war that will last 100 years.

Gravity (12A, 91 mins)

AS misfortune stacks upon tragedy in Alfonso Cuarón's deep space survival thriller, the film's stricken heroine greets her seemingly inevitable demise with deadpan humour.

"I hate space," she sighs, resigned to her terrifying fate.

We hate it too by the heart-breaking conclusion of Gravity, which puts its lead character through the physical and emotional wringer as she drifts through that inky void, which will become her tomb.

Scripted by Cuarón and his son Jonas, the film is lean and runs to a sprightly 91 minutes, most of which will be spent marvelling at the virtuosity of the camerawork, editing and spectacular visual effects.

Avatar and Life Of Pi may have pushed the boundaries of 3D but Gravity propels the format into another universe. It is a film that demands to be seen on the largest possible screen, preferably IMAX 3D, which gives the impression of floating with the astronauts as they face life-or-death choices.

Cuarón opens in silence with the striking orb of planet earth slowly rotating like a sleeping giant. Gradually, the Space Shuttle Explorer comes into view, docked close to the Hubble Space Telescope.

Commander Matt Kowalski (George Clooney), a veteran of the space program on his final mission, provides encouragement to fellow astronaut Shariff (Phaldut Sharma) and specialist Dr Ryan Stone (Sandra Bullock), who is in space for the first time.

Out of the blue, Mission Control orders Kowalski to abort the mission and return to Explorer: a Russian missile strike on a defunct satellite has created a debris cloud that is heading straight towards the crew's current position.

As Steven Price's orchestral score reaches a deafening crescendo, razor-sharp debris rips apart Explorer, killing Shariff and hurtling Stone through space.

If Kowalski cannot locate Stone before her dwindling oxygen supply runs out then that silence will consume her.

Gravity employs the latest ground-breaking technology to realise Cuarón's startling vision of one woman battling against the odds in the one place that no one can hear her whimper.

The complexity of the Mexican director's vision, and the effortless with which he realises it, are jaw-dropping.

Oscar-winner Bullock delivers a compelling lead performance which might be her finest to date, struggling to keep her emotions in check as she prepares to be reunited with her dead daughter.

Slug it out with invader

IMAGINE a Britain without vegetable patches, allotments or beautiful flower beds, where gardeners are unable to grow anything outside, knowing any plants will be ravaged by a foreign predator.

This is, admittedly, a worst case scenario, but still not an impossible one, says scientist Dr Ian Bedford, head of entomology in the John Innes Centre in Norwich. He is leading a group of scientists in a project to monitor sightings of the Spanish slug, Arion vulgaris, a particularly aggressive and large slug (pictured) which breeds and eats at a faster rate than our native species and has so much slime on its body many native predators are put off.

The scientists launched a website, slugwatch.co.uk, a couple of weeks ago, asking people to report sightings. Within 10 days, there had been 18,000 visitors to the site and more than 800 submissions, some reporting the Spanish slugs, Dr Bedford confirms.

He says that the reports from the public may also give scientists an idea of whether 'Arion vulgaris' is breeding with native species to form a hybrid that combines the worst of the Spanish slug with the tolerance to frosts and cold from our own species.

This year has generally been a bad year for slugs. Late spring frosts killed off a lot of them, but this may just be offsetting the plague that could follow – we need late spring frosts and early winters to kill off juvenile slugs to keep numbers down.

Last year, however, was a different story as, following a mild spring and wet summer, Dr Bedford found Spanish slugs ravaging his own garden in Norfolk.

"The only vegetables which survived the onslaught were parsnips," he recalls. "They attacked legumes, onions and chives. They ate broad beans, French beans and runner beans and were going to the top of the plants and eating them from the top downwards. I couldn't get carrots past early germination stage and the same with lettuces and beetroot."

"All the potato foliage was eaten, although I did manage to harvest some potatoes, and the foliage of onions was also attacked, which resulted in very small onions."

by Hannah Stephenson

He had evidence of Spanish slugs eating snails and even working their way through dog faeces and eating dead animals such as mice.

Growing plants which slugs don't like may provide some solution for domestic gardeners, though.

"The plants which don't seem to get attacked by slugs are the ones which have high levels of plant oils, such as rosemary, which has high levels of camphor, and lavender," says Dr Bedford.

Other plants not favoured by slugs include azaleas, pieris, geraniums, mature shrubs and conifers, although Dr Bedford points out that last year Spanish slugs ate his buddleia and rudbeckias.

Contrary to reports, slug pellets will kill Spanish slugs but because of their voracious appetite they will eat a lot of slug pellets before they die, he notes.

It's better to go on slug patrol early morning and at dusk, preferably after rain, as these huge slugs are highly visible, and pick them off before putting them into a bucket of water containing detergent which will cause them to sink, he advises. Then dispose of them and bleach the bucket to kill off any bacteria.

Winter digging may also help expose the eggs, which look like an off-white jelly about a quarter of the size of a pea. They are generally laid up to 5cm under the soil surface, or under logs and stones, or terracotta plant pots.

Slugs are nothing new to gardeners nationwide. On average a UK garden is home to more than 20,000 slugs and it is estimated that an acre of farmland can support more than 250,000 of the slippery creatures.

The RHS takes a more cautious approach regarding how great a threat the Spanish slug is to our gardens. Guy Barter, head of RHS advisory service, says: "We are not clear what the threat is or how widespread it is likely to be. At this point there's no reason to be anxious about it. We need more evidence."

Ford Focus tops global sales again

FORD Focus, the best-selling vehicle nameplate in the world in 2012, retains the title for the first half of 2013.

In addition, Ford Fiesta ranks as the fourth best-selling vehicle – making Ford the only brand to have two nameplates among the global top five best-sellers, according to Polk global vehicle registration data. Ford Focus grew

20 per cent in the first half of 2013 from the same period last year, to 589,709 vehicle registrations, driven primarily by increasing demand from customers in China and other Asian countries. In the UK 47,675 new Ford Focus cars were delivered in the first six months of this year, up 8.7 per cent on the 43,853 cars sold in the first half of 2012. Ford

Focus is the second best-selling car in Britain behind Ford

Fiesta. "Fiesta and Focus just keep getting better," said Jim Farley, Ford executive vice president, global marketing, sales and service.

POPULAR CHOICE: The ever-popular Ford Focus has performed well globally once more, with vehicle registrations up 20 per cent in the first half of 2013

LOUIS Martin, James Iron and Matt Carpenter were the winners in Haverhill Golf Club juniors' Autumn Shield.

In the white tee medal, Martin's score of gross 86, nett 68 saw him cut his handicap to one and finish nine clear of Edward Halpin. Lewis Whiting was third with nett 78.

The yellow tee medal was taken by Iron with nett 69, three better than Jason Carpenter. Matt Carpenter won the red tee stableford competition with 35 points.

Fiona Stokes, Whiting and Halpin won the Newton Green Open with a combined score of 109.

Price and Sail will represent Haverhill in the Daily Mail national event next year.

John Annand and Nigel Taylor had the edge on countback to lift the Asco Cup, the final major of the year at Haverhill.

A good turnout of 74 players took part in the foursomes medal, which had a handicap limit of 18, half combined.

They scored gross 85, nett 69 to beat Eamonn Bareham and Graham Ashcroft, who shot gross 79. Howard Craven and Simon Iron were third with nett 70.

Tappin season ends on high

JACK Tappin was delighted to complete his season in one of his quickest times of the year in the Stevenage Half Marathon.

The 26-year-old Haverhill runner was competing in his last race of the year, having completed seven triathlons and five half marathons in 2013, and he clocked 1hr 49min 21sec.

He said: "I was pleased to complete the run in under 1hr 50min as the last half marathon I'd done was in Soham in May and I was two minutes over that time then.

"I felt a little off the pace but didn't flag much so when I got nearer the end was confident I'd manage it, though felt so spent near the end I couldn't even muster my usual sprint finish."

Rovers ease to victory at New Croft

DEAN Greygoose again stressed the need for his Haverhill Rovers team to be more clinical but they still managed to inflict a 3-0 defeat on struggling Wivenhoe Town at the New Croft in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Rovers always looked to be in control and it was no surprise when they took the lead in the 24th minute. Simon Newnes delivered a great cross and Jack Wilkinson was on hand to fire the ball into the net.

Rovers dominated after the opening goal but it was not until five minutes before the break when they added their second, Newnes crossing to Luke Parkinson who struck a superb volley past the Wivenhoe keeper.

The home side netted their third goal five minutes from time when Andrew Oforu struck a left-foot shot from 20 yards.

"Wivenhoe are struggling a bit and weren't a great team but the conditions were tough and the pitch was heavy so that evened things up a bit," said boss Greygoose. "Haverhill have struggled to get good results from games like this in the past so I'm very pleased with how we handled the game.

"We kept another clean sheet and scored three goals so I'm really pleased.

"The only thing I was a bit concerned about was that we didn't put more goals past them.

"We still need to be more clinical. We seem to be learning how to beat weaker teams though and that's very pleasing. We need to keep that going."

In the First Division, Haverhill Borough suffered a 3-2 defeat at Ipswich Wanderers.

Borough fell behind in the 18th minute and despite finishing the half well, and creating more chances after the break, Wanderers added two more goals, the last coming with 22 minutes left.

Gavin Taylor reduced the arrears in the 75th minute and Aaron Forshaw scored in stoppage time but it was not enough to salvage a point.
